Hay market trade slow and demand light, prices steady. Very little hay was reported moving last week on limited test. The cooler temperatures last week was a welcome change but made the hot temperatures over the weekend feel all that much worse. According to the US Drought Monitor, cooler than normal temperatures also helped to slow down some of the drought development in the region this week. Temperatures were generally 2-4 degrees below normal, with pockets in Kansas that were 6-8 degrees below normal. Abnormal dryness (D0) decreased to 17.5 pct, moderate drought (D1) decreased to 14 pct, severe drought (D2) remained steady at 4 pct, and extreme drought (D3) remained less than .05 pct. Join agriculture leaders from across the state for the VIRTUAL Kansas Governor's Summit on Agricultural Growth. Starting August 17th-19th, we will be holding three crossover topics via Zoom. Topics will include: Agriculture's Voice in Statewide Initiatives, Protecting Our Supply Chain During Covid-19, and Trade. August 20th the online event will feature guest speakers and share results from the sector breakout sessions held last month. More information about the Summit, including a link to the registration site, can be found at www.agriculture.ks.gov/Summit. If you have any extra hay to sell and/or need hay here in Kansas, use the services of the Internet Hay Exchange: www.hayexchange.com/ks.php.
