Vegetables and Pulses Yearbook Data

Hodan Farah Wells,
Jennifer Bond, and Suzanne Thornsbury

Yearbook tables contain a time series of the annual per capita supply and use data for fresh and processed vegetables and for dry pulse crops. Included are U.S. production, exports, imports, per capita utilization, and prices.

Notice: Effective March 20, 2015, the Vegetables and Pulses Yearbook reflects a number of enhancements. The publication now includes an additional 30 supply and utilization tables uniquely provided by the Economic Research Service. Consistent with notifications in the 2014 Vegetables and Pulses Yearbook tables, the 2015 version decreases publication redundancy across USDA agencies without reduction in data availability. Users are directed to original data sources in the note on the bottom of each of these tables in the 2014 Vegetables and Pulses Yearbook. A side-by-side comparison of 2014 vs. 2015 Yearbook contents will be found in the Data Documentation on the Economic Research Service website for Vegetable and Pulses data (<http://www.ers.usda.gov/data-products/vegetables-and-pulses-data.aspx>).

1/ All production for processing broccoli and cauliflower is for freezing. 2/ On-cob basis. 3/ In-shell basis. 4/ Includes domestically-produced hothouse tomatoes after 1996 (all years include imported hothouse tomatoes). 5/ Includes artichokes, Brussels sprouts, eggplant, endive/escarole, garlic, radishes, green limas, squash, & spinach. After 2000 includes okra, pumpkins, kale, collards, turnip greens, and mustard greens. 6/ Includes beets, green limas (1992-2014), spinach, and miscellaneous imports (1990-2014). 7/ Includes green limas, spinach, and miscellaneous freezing vegetables. 8/ Fresh, canning, and freezing data do not sum to the total because onions for dehydrating are included in the total. 9/ Production from new areas in the upper Midwest added in 1998. A portion of this is used for animal feed.

10/ Includes garbanzo beans (chickpeas). 10/ Beginning in 2012, data coverage for melons is included in the Fruit and Tree Nuts Yearbook.

ERS estimates for other years based on a benchmark/mover system where acreage in intercensal years is estimated based on interpolated Census acreage and California yields reported by California County Ag Commissions. 2/ ERS estimates of imports are based on AMS market import shipments of greens. 3/ Prices are for California product reported in the California County Ag Commissioners report. 4/ Constant-dollar prices were calculated using the GDP implicit price deflator, 2009=100.

-- = Not available. r = revised. p = preliminary. 1/ All data are on a calendar year basis. Data exclude potatoes, sweet potatoes, mushrooms, dry beans, dry peas, and lentils. 2/ Compiled by ERS from data of USDA, National Agricultural Statistics Service. 2/ Compiled by ERS from data of U.S. Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census. 3/ All product weight were converted to a fresh-weight basis. 4/ Stocks data estimated by ERS based on available data and historical relationships between stocks and pack. 5/ Accounts for shipments to U.S. territories from 1978-88. 6/ Share of domestic disappearance accounted for by imports. 7/ Share of total supply that is exported. 8/ Data from U.S. Dept. of Commerce, U.S. Census Bureau. 9/ Stocks are discontinuous between 1985 and 1986 due to the resumption of estimates for pickling cucumbers.

-- = Not available. r = revised. p = preliminary. 1/ Estimated by ERS based on data from USDA, National Agricultural Statistics Service and the American Frozen Food Institute through 2000. After 2000, shelf-stable processing is set at 34 percent of processing carrot production based on the share of the processing carrot crop packed frozen between 1996-2000. 2/ Compiled by ERS from data of U.S. Dept of Commerce, U.S. Census Bureau. All product-weight data is converted to a fresh-weight basis using a factor of 1.33 through 2005. After 2005, the factor was revised to 1.18. 3/ Estimated by ERS based on data from the National Food Processors Assoc through 1989 when reporting ceased. 4/ Share of domestic disappearance accounted for by imports.

and ends on June 30 of the following year. 2/ Source: USDA, National Agricultural Statistics Service. 3/ Source: U.S. Dept. of Commerce, U.S. Census Bureau. Includes canned, frozen, and dried mushrooms. Canned converted to fresh-weight basis using a factor of 1.538, frozen factor is 1.5, and dried factor is 10.0. Dried exports adjusted using Canadian data from 1979-88. 4/ Total disappearance divided by total U.S.

population on January 1. Represents volume available for consumption per person. 5/ Deflated by the GDP implicit price deflator, 2009=100.

Note: Due to lack of data, this table excludes changes in processed mushroom product inventories.

1/ Excludes onions for fresh, canning, and freezing. 2/ From 1979-92, estimated by ERS as 76 percent of California summer crop.

After 1992, production for processing estimated by USDA, National Agricultural Statistics Service. Price data also estimated by USDA/NASS starting in 1993. 3/ Product-weight data was converted to fresh basis using factor of 9.0. 4/ Source: U.S. Dept. of Commerce, U.S. Census Bureau. 5/ Stocks are for raw product to be processed and do not include finished inventory. Estimated by ERS as 80 percent of California summer onion stocks from 1970-80. Since 1980, estimated by ERS as 2.5 percent of U.S. Jan 1 onion inventory.

6/ Estimated by ERS as 50 percent of California's summer crop shrinkage and loss (assumes lower shrink in processing).

7/ Unit value of California onions destined for processing. 8/ Deflated by the GDP implicit price deflator, 2009=100.

-- = Not available. r = revised. p = preliminary. 1/ ERS estimates based on published and unpublished State production data and USDA, Agricultural Marketing Service fresh shipments. California data included pimientos through 1999. 2/ Computed by ERS from data of U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, after 1988. Imports for 1980-88 were estimated by ERS. Imports include fresh, canned (conversion factor=2.41), and dehydrated products (factor=8.0) on a fresh-weight basis. Imports exclude pimientos and paprika powder. 3/ Computed by ERS from data of U.S. Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census. Exports consist of dehydrated converted to a fresh-weight basis, plus 10 percent of the fresh pepper/pimiento export category since chile exports are combined with bell peppers by Census. 4/ Dry basis was converted from fresh-weight (wet) equivalent using a factor of 5.0 through 1988 and a factor of 8.0 thereafter. 5/ Through 1999, represents the average price for all chile peppers in New Mexico, calculated on a wet basis. After 1999, price is from USDA, NASS. 6/ Constant dollar price was deflated using the GDP implicit price deflator, 2009=100.

1/ Includes both fresh and processing beans. 2/ Source: USDA, NASS. 3/ Source: Bureau of the Census, USDC. Exports for 1980-96 were estimated by ERS based on share of miscellaneous (small red, pink, cranberry, and other) class production, distributing the export value from the miscellaneous HS codes.

4/ Seed use is estimated by ERS. 5/ Approximated from Idaho's dry bean marketing pattern. Assumes no carryover into next crop year.

6/ Dealer price, ID small red as reported by Bean Market News, AMS, USDA. 7/ Constant dollar prices calculated using the GDP implicit price deflator, 2009=100.
