Compared to last week alfalfa sold fully steady to 10.00 higher. Alfalfa cubes and sun-cured pellets sold steady. All contacts stated buyer inquiry and demand was very good this week. Dryness continues across the state and many livestock owners are buying some hay for current and winter feeding needs. Contacts continue to pump water on fields since rainfall has been very limited or spotty across the state. Some concern that the feet of water will get cut back in the near future. Most are done or on second cutting of alfalfa and waiting for second cutting of grass hay. Most of the hay continues to get shipped out of the area. However, some contacts said they have sold more hay locally than years past. All prices are FOB the field or hay barn unless noted.
