Direct Hay Weighted Average Report for week ending 2/19/2021

Volume
This Week	Last Reported ( )	Last Year

Please Note: The above volumes (tonnage, acres, and bales) listed on this USDA LPGMN report are for confirmed trades only, it does not include estimated volume (tonnage) for bids or offers to the trade.

Compared to the last report: Hay prices are remaining firm across all regions as a winter storm that brought snow, ice, and below freezing temperatures moved through the state this week. Hay demand has increased as ranchers are having to supplement more feed due to the weather. Supplies have continued to tighten as drought like conditions throughout the growing season limited overall yields in state. Additionally, forages in the majority of the state are becoming more scarce as a lot of the hay that normally comes into the state from Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas, and Oklahoma has been limited due to drought conditions in those areas as well. A good portion of the hay that is still in storage has already been contracted and is just awaiting delivery.

***Due to limited sales and price changes this report will be released bi-weekly until more volumes of hay is moving.***

*** The next report release will be March 5th***
