Compared to last week alfalfa hay sold fully steady. Grass hay, ground and delivered and dehy alfalfa pellets sold steady. Majority of the contacts said phone were busy so far this week but little to no business took place. Most prospective buyers are hand to mouth and it may stay that way for awhile. Ground and delivered producers continue to state it is very slow on our end across the state. However, most are busy grinding hay at the feedlot or ranch just not selling there own inventory. Killing frost occurred last week in the Panhandle. Most corn plants are white from frost damage. Also, cane, millet and so on was put into dormancy from the frost. Some are on 4th cutting of alfalfa across the state. Silage chopping continues in full swing across the state. Some are thinking of grinding high moisture corn in the near future.
